

NHVR enhancing safety for all road users

The National Heavy Vehicle Regulator (NHVR) is Australia's independent regulator for heavy vehicles with a gross vehicle mass greater than 4.5 tonnes. The NHVR collaborates with states and territories, industries, partner agencies, and local governments to drive sustainable improvements to safety, productivity, and efficiency across the Australian heavy vehicle road transport sector. Comtrac's Azure-driven platform for case, evidence, and digital brief management has enhanced NHVR's investigations, delivering increased transparency and consistency. This has improved efficiency in investigations and led to improved road safety.

Customer Challenges

In 2018, Australia's NHVR sought a case management system (CSM) specific to its needs. The agency required a CSM that would align with its corporate plan, which included requirements to improve information delivery and to support NHVR safety, compliance, and enforcement activities. The agency is also required to create consistent and effective safety outcomes through national coordination of compliance, enforcement, and assurance activities.

Partner Solution

The Azure-powered Comtrac solution is used by law enforcement, statutory regulatory authorities, and private-sector clients to provide a consistent approach for managing investigations. The platform automatically customises the investigative workflow and builds digital briefs of evidence as investigations progress. Comtrac delivers increased transparency and consistency to streamline investigations, and the solution automatically generates briefs of evidence and investigative outputs.

Customer Benefits

Investigations undertaken by NHVR have been significantly enhanced through Comtrac's unique methodology of mapping evidence to offence elements. Comtrac provides a comprehensive and transparent approach to investigations. Exhibit management is optimised through mapping and substantiating offences. As officers populate cases with information, Comtrac creates comprehensive digital briefs of evidence while delivering streamlined workflows.

Acceleration and automation

A custom workflow automates administrative tasks, accelerates the investigative process, and automatically generates digital briefs of evidence.

Transparency, self-service

Mapping evidence to offence elements provides clarity and strengthens cases. Also, Comtrac users can fully configure forms, workflows, labels, and brief of evidence templates.

"Comtrac's unique approach to elementising offences is integral to the NHVR's compliance and enforcement activities."
